Welcome to Nærøy

We would like to welcome you to Nærøy and Ytre Namdal – a district with a varied and diverse coastal nature and charming village life. Here you will find everything from pristine wilderness and mountains to fascinating fjords and archipelagos with the ocean beyond.

An important part of our cultural landscape is all the thriving villages which make Nærøy an exciting experience. The most important industries in the municipality are agriculture, aquaculture and shipbuilding.

Nærøy – from the ocean to the mountains

With its long coastline, Nærøy is a paradise for boating, and the vast mountains, with their varied nature, are an invitation to hikers. Nærøy is full of fishing lakes where you can fish for trout and Arctic char. The salmon bite in the Opløelva, Kvistelva and Horvenelva rivers, and the fjords contain almost all varieties of saltwater fish. Nærøy has many activities to offer, and the municipality has many cultural facilities, such as a theatre, cinema, concerts and revues.

There are many outdoor activities to choose from, including walking and hiking, golfing, diving and boat trips. In Nærøy you can also buy interesting arts and crafts, eat food produced on local farms, see giant pot-holes, visit Ketil Høng's Viking burial mound at Ramstad, not to mention the medieval church at Nærøya, or Njord's Island as it was known in the sagas.

Kolvereid – Norway's second smallest town!

The centre of the municipality is the town of Kolvereid, located in the middle of Nærøy. The area has grown considerably over the past 30 years, and today it is the centre of the district, with a well-developed trade and service industry. Kolvereid is home to the municipality's culture centre, comprising a stage and a cinema, a fantastic sports hall as well as outdoor sports facilities. The town also has a town hall, library, market square, pedestrian street, health centre, nursing home, bank, post office, police station, hotel, state alcohol outlet, cafés etc.
